

Mariken Wessels

Mariken Wessels (1963, the Netherlands) creates artist's books, photo series, film works, sculptures, and installations. Her multilayered projects interweave appropriated imagery and self-produced images to reimagine the boundaries of the public and private spheres and the role of bodily expression. Prior to her visual practice, Wessels studied acting at the Amsterdam Theater School and, after a decade-long acting career, visual arts at the Gerrit Rietveld Academy. Wessels held solo exhibitions at the Fotomuseum Antwerp (2016) and the Fotomuseum Den Haag (2017). Works from Nude – Arising from the Ground were included in the group exhibition Human After All: Ceramic Reflections in Contemporary Art at Museum Princessehof, Leeuwarden (2021). Wessels has published multiple books, amongst which Taking Off. Henry my Neighbor (Art Paper Editions, 2015), Miss Cox (Fw:Books, 2020) and Fruits of Labor (Van Zoetendaal, 2023). Her art works and artist's books have been acquired by numerous collections around the world, such as Stedelijk Museum (Amsterdam), Fotomuseum Antwerpen, Kunstmuseum Den Haag, International Center of Photography (New York), Museum of Modern Art library (New York), Bayerische Staatsbibliothek (Munich), and Ampersand Foundation (Johannesburg). In 2018–2019 she worked as artist-in-residence at the European Ceramic Work Center in Oisterwijk (NL).

Mariken Wessels is represented by The Ravestijn Gallery, Amsterdam.
